Adrean Novak:

Hi, my name is Adrian Novak and I am the patient care coordinator here at Balanced Flow. As a yoga instructor myself, I've been in the fitness community for quite some time. Dr. Lee and Dr. Hertzberg, they actually hosted my anatomy training and that's really where the spark started. As the care coordinator, I'm really the gatekeeper between the patients and the physicians themselves. So from start to finish, I'm really just making sure that the patients are comfortable with not only the treatment they're getting here, but the staff, their finances, and everything that's entailed the minute they walk through the door.
