

Michael Gontare...:

My name is Michael Gontarek. I am a chiropractic physician here at Balanced Flow. The patient will come in for what we call an initial consultation, and that initial consultation will typically be done by either myself or the nurse practitioner. So we're going to look at how they move, what is strong, what is weak, what is inhibited, where are their strengths and weaknesses lie, essentially? I had a patient once here before tell me that out of all of the physicians that they've gone to, not just chiropractors, they've never had such a thorough investigation or a thorough examination of their case. They can not only understand why we're doing the things that we're doing, but also help understand what they can do to help themselves. I feel fortunate to have a job where I'm not really feeling like I'm working and I get to just have fun with what I'm doing every day.
