

Dr. Nolan Lee:

I really hate when people are told they have pain because they're old, because there's nothing that is scientific about that. The body does degrade. You don't heal as fast when you're older, but to accept the fact that I'm old, I'm just going to be dysfunctional and have pain, that is just such a horrible thought to me because I'm going to be there soon and I don't want to be like that. And it's our mission to help people not think that way and not get that way. We hate when we see people say, "Oh, you have arthritis. You're just going to hurt. Just get over it." That's not an answer to me. What kind of life is that if you're just supposed to have pain and be okay with it? So is the answer to live longer and be miserable or? I don't think that's a good answer. If you're going to live longer, you want quality of life. You want to be productive in life or what's the point?
